How They Follow Jesus

"Our whole family follows Jesus," Linnéa says. She and her cousin call each other each morning to read scriptures together. One time she wrote a song about Heavenly Father and Jesus and shared it in family home evening.

Felicia is a good example at school. She told her teacher about general conference. "He already knows I'm a Christian," she says. "I told him the name of the Church and a little about my baptism."

Cecilia follows Jesus by studying the scriptures and helping others. "When I help someone, my heart feels soft and puffy like a cloud," she says. ●
