INTRODUCCIÓN

El cuaderno de ejercicios de EnglishConnect está concebido para utilizarse como un recurso que acompaña el manual del alumno de EnglishConnect. El propósito de este cuaderno de ejercicios es ayudarle a desarrollar sus aptitudes en inglés y aumentar su fe por medio de actividades y relatos. También le ayudará a practicar el vocabulario y las estructuras gramaticales de cada lección de EnglishConnect en las cuatro áreas de aptitudes: comprensión oral, conversación, lectura y escritura. Cada lección en el cuaderno de ejercicios está dividida en las siguientes secciones que aparecen a continuación.

CONVERSATION(S) (CONVERSACIÓN)

Cada lección comienza con una o más conversaciones. El propósito es presentar el vocabulario, el tema, y las estructuras gramaticales de la lección y promover la comprensión oral y de lectura. Cada sección de “Conversation” sigue el mismo modelo:

1. Escuche. Escuche toda la conversación.
2. Escuche y repita. Escuche la conversación línea por línea y repita en voz alta lo que escuche.
3. Escriba la palabra que falte. Escriba las palabras que falten de la conversación. Escoja de entre las palabras del recuadro.
4. Lea en voz alta. Lea la conversación en voz alta para practicarla.
5. Responda las preguntas (no se incluye en todas las lecciones). Esta parte verifica su comprensión de la conversación.

ACTIVITIES 2-8 (ACTIVIDADES 2-8)

La cantidad de actividades varía en cada lección. Las actividades incluyen cuadros de gramática, actividades de lectura, escritura, comprensión oral y conversación; y relatos. Siga las instrucciones de cada parte de una actividad. Para las actividades de comprensión oral, consulte el número y la letra de la actividad correspondiente en la grabación de audio, por ejemplo, “Activity 2B”. Para las actividades de conversación, recuerde hablar en voz alta. Puede verificar sus respuestas en la “Answer Key” que se encuentra en la parte posterior de este cuaderno.

PRACTICE PARTNER INSTRUCTIONS (INSTRUCCIONES PARA LA PRÁCTICA CON UN COMPAÑERO)

Esta sección está destinada a ayudarle a practicar el hablar inglés usando lo que ha aprendido en la lección. Con un compañero, repase el “Vocabulary” que se encuentra en la parte posterior de este cuaderno y realice las actividades de esta sección. Diga lo más que pueda en cada actividad. Utilice este tiempo para practicar de verdad el hablar en inglés.

EXPANSION ACTIVITIES (ACTIVIDADES DE EXPANSIÓN)

Estos relatos y las actividades están concebidos para expandir sus habilidades de leer, escuchar, hablar y escribir en inglés, así como a ayudarle a incrementar su fe en Jesucristo. Cada sección de “Expansion Activities” se desarrolla en torno a un relato inspirador. Para esta sección, haga lo siguiente:

1. Aprenda el vocabulario. Aprenda el significado de las palabras y frases del vocabulario que se indican en esta sección antes de leer el relato. Esto le ayudará a prepararse tanto para leer el relato como para entender las palabras y frases clave del relato.
2. Escuche. Escuche cada sección del relato. Puede hacer esto tantas veces como sea necesario.
3. Lea en voz alta. Lea la historia en voz alta para practicar la lectura y la pronunciación y para poder entender el relato. Quizás desee escuchar el relato otra vez y leerlo al mismo tiempo.
4. Aprenda el vocabulario. El vocabulario está para ayudarle a entender los pasajes de las Escrituras y las citas que acompañan al relato. Aprenda el significado de las palabras y frases del vocabulario que se indican antes de estudiar los pasajes de las Escrituras y las citas.
5. Lea en voz alta. A fin de practicar la lectura y la pronunciación, asegúrese de leer los pasajes de las Escrituras y las citas varias veces en voz alta.
6. Meditate. Estas preguntas están concebidas para ayudarle a pensar sobre el principio que se enseña en el relato. Dedique tiempo a meditarlas. Quizás desee escribir sus respuestas a las preguntas.
7. Escriba. Para esta sección, usted realizará una actividad de escritura que le ayudará a aplicar el principio del relato.
8. Converse. Para esta sección, usted realizará una actividad de conversación que le ayudará a hablar sobre el relato que haya leído y el principio que haya aprendido. Tales actividades comprenden volver a contar el relato, contar una experiencia personal que esté relacionada o compartir con otras personas impresiones o metas que estén relacionadas con el relato.

A. Listen and read. B. Read aloud.

Gordon Parks was born in 1912 in a small town. His home was full of love. But his town was not. "Black kids can't play sports," said his high school coach.

When he was 15, his mom died. He moved in with his older sister. She lived in a big city. The neighborhood was crowded, noisy, and unsafe.

He argued with his brother-in-law. He had to move out. For many months, he lived on the streets.

One day he was very hungry. He thought, "Maybe I can steal some money." He saw a man. He pulled out his knife. He started to shake.

He thought about his mother. She had taught him to be good. "Sir," he said, "could you buy this knife? I'm so hungry. It costs one dollar." The man said, "No." Then he gave Gordon two dollars.

After that, Gordon worked hard. One day he bought a used camera. He took pictures of the noisy streets. He took pictures of poor people in big cities.

Soon, people paid him to take pictures. He went back to his small town. He took pictures of his school and his friends.

His pictures told new kinds of stories. They were stories of people in unsafe neighborhoods. They were stories of people who were angry.

They were also stories of people who were kind. And they were stories of people who were hopeful. What is it like where you live? What kind of stories can you tell?

Then let them ask you the same questions.
- Talk about your childhood homes. Ask, "What type of home did you have? What did your home look like? Where did you live? What was close by? Who lived there with you?" Can they describe the home they live in now? Now let them ask you about your childhood home.
- Help your practice partner retell the story of Gordon Parks. Talk about the story. Did you like it? Why or why not? Tell a story about your neighborhood. Ask your partner to tell a story about their neighborhood.

A. Listen. B. Read aloud.

One weekend when I was young, we visited my grandparents.

After we ate dinner, Grandpa said, "Let's go to the park. Get your shoes!"

When Grandpa looked at my shoes, he frowned.

My shoes were too big. They had holes.

"Betty!" he said to my mom. "We're going to the store."

At the store, Grandpa chose a pair of brown shoes. "Try these," he said.

I put them on. They fit perfectly. They didn't have holes. But they were ugly. Grandpa smiled.

"These are good shoes," he said. I wore those ugly shoes every day.

Twenty years later, I saw an old photo of Grandpa. He was a young boy. "He doesn't have any shoes," I said.

Mom said, "Shoes were too expensive for his family. When he was young, he never had shoes."

"Oh," I said. "Remember my ugly brown shoes?" Mom smiled. "Yes. He wanted you to have good shoes."

I smiled, too. Grandpa bought me shoes because he loved me.

When he was 10, he had a dream. He saw people that looked like him. They stood behind a fence. They reached out to him. He saw a gate. The gate was locked. He realized, "I have the key!"

He wanted to go on a mission for the Church. He was called to serve in Bulgaria.

In Bulgaria, he served near his birthplace. One day, Tavian and his companion traveled by bus to a small town to teach a lesson.

They asked a man for directions. This man was the mayor of the town. They told the mayor that Tavian was born in the town.

The mayor asked, "What is your Bulgarian name?" Tavian told the man his name. The mayor said, "I know that family!"

They drove to the edge of the village. Many curious people followed them. The mayor knocked on the door.

A woman came to the door. The mayor asked the woman if she wanted to see her son. She came out. She gave Tavian a big hug. "It's a miracle!" she said.

He met 50 family members that day. They all stood in a circle around him. He told them about his life. He told them about the gospel of Jesus Christ. The gospel is the key.

"Some friends tried to persuade us to use the money for our trip to the United States.

"I said, 'We cannot keep this money because it is not ours.

"The purpose of our trip to the temple is to make covenants with the Lord. What good will they do if we are dishonest?"

ACTIVITY 4: I NEVER GOT LOST

A. Listen. B. Read aloud.

When I was a university student, I went to China to study. At the train station, I sat near an older woman. There were so many trains. I felt lost.

I showed the woman my ticket. “Do you know where my train is?” I asked. She said, “It’s around the corner.”

A man came by. He looked at my ticket. He said, “Hurry! That train is leaving soon.” We ran far away from the woman.

He pointed to my train. I got on the train. But I didn’t know when to get off.

I showed my ticket to another man. He talked to the people next to him. He said, “Is anyone getting off at this city?”

The girl in front of him said, “I am.” She stood close to me. The door opened. We got off the train.

The girl found a taxi. She asked the driver, “Do you know where this hotel is?” He nodded. We got in the taxi together.

The hotel was next to a museum. We went inside together. She said, “Do you know where the university students are?”

The man pointed to the hotel restaurant. We walked across the lobby to the restaurant. There was my teacher! Thanks to my Chinese friends, I never got lost.

"My feet hurt," said the man. "I've been walking for 500 miles." "Why don't you wear your boots?" asked Rodrigo.

"My shoes were worn out so I stopped at a church. The pastor washed my feet. His wife gave me these boots. I started walking again, but my feet hurt too much."

"Where are you going?" asked Rodrigo. "To see my brother in Provo, Utah."

"That's 150 miles away!" said Rodrigo. Rodrigo thought of his wife. Then he said, "I will drive you."

Then the party host brought out some illegal drugs. John felt very uncomfortable. He said, "Matt, we should leave."

Matt said, "I don't want to leave. We don't have to use the drugs. We'll just pass it to the next person."

John knew what was happening wasn't right. He said, "I'm going to leave. You should come with me."

Matt refused. He stayed at the party. After John left, the police came to the party.

The people threw the drugs off the roof. The police tested the people at the party. Those who touched the drugs were guilty.

During World War I, 100,000 German and British soldiers decided to stop fighting for a day. It was Christmas Eve 1914.

They had been fighting for five months in trenches. On that night, there were no guns fired. It was silent. It was an unofficial truce.

German soldiers decorated their trenches with Christmas trees and candles.

The soldiers on both sides started singing Christmas songs. They took turns singing. They sang in their own languages.

The next morning, Christmas Day, the truce continued. Many soldiers came out of the trenches. They walked across "no-man's-land."

They shook hands with each other. They said "Merry Christmas" to each other.

They gave each other small gifts of food, buttons, and hats. Some even played soccer with each other.

When Christmas Day ended, the soldiers went back to their trenches and started fighting again.

A German soldier wrote, "How strange it was. . . . Christmas, the celebration of Love, managed to bring mortal enemies together as friends for a time."

He didn't have a lot of money, though. So he took food in his suitcase. He ate that food every day.

He didn't go to the restaurants on the ship. He didn't go to the movies, parties, or other activities.

He explored the cities. But most of the time, he stayed in his room. He ate the food that he brought.

On the last day of the cruise, a man asked, "Which of the farewell parties are you going to?"

He said to the man, "I don't have money to go to the parties."

The man said, "You don't need any money. The food, parties, and activities are included in the ticket. You already paid for everything."

The man was shocked and sad. He had missed out on many things.

EXPANSION ACTIVITIES: IT WILL ALL WORK OUT

1. Learn the vocabulary: critical condition, motto, grief, resurrection, sealing

2. Listen. 3. Read aloud.

Our daughter Georgia was 21 years old. She had a terrible bike accident. She was in the hospital in critical condition. Our family said, "It will all work out."

I flew immediately from our mission in Brazil to the USA to be with her. I held on to our family motto—"It will all work out."

But our lovely daughter died just hours before my plane landed.

We felt grief and shock. How could we still say, "It will all work out"?

After Georgia's death, our feelings were raw. We struggled. Sometimes we still feel great sorrow. But we understand that no one ever really dies.

Georgia is no longer with us. But we have faith that she is still living as a spirit.

We believe we will live with her eternally if we keep our temple covenants.

We have faith in our Redeemer and His Resurrection. We have faith in His priesthood power and faith in eternal sealings.

We can still say, "It will all work out."

4. Learn the vocabulary: remove, thine = yours, align

Matthew 3:1–16

2. Listen. 3. Read aloud.

John the Baptist lived in the desert for many years. He wore clothes made of camel's hair. He ate honey and locusts.

People came from the cities to hear him teach. He taught the people about Jesus Christ.

He told them to repent of their sins and be baptized. John baptized people who repented of their sins.

The people asked John how to live better lives. He told them to share with the poor, tell the truth, and be fair to others.

He said that Jesus Christ would soon come. Jesus would give them the gift of the Holy Ghost.

One day when John was baptizing people in the Jordan River, Jesus Christ came to him. Jesus asked John to baptize Him.

John knew that Jesus had always obeyed God's commandments. He did not need to repent. John thought that Jesus did not need to be baptized.

But God commanded all people to be baptized. Jesus told John to baptize Him. Jesus set an example for us. He obeyed God's commandment to be baptized.

When Jesus came up out of the water, the Holy Ghost came to Him. God spoke from heaven. He said, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased."

Kim called the band. She reserved the beach. She ordered flowers, food, and fireworks. "This wedding will be perfect," she said.

On the morning of the wedding, Kim took a shower and did her hair. She put on her beautiful dress. "Perfect," she said, looking in the bathroom mirror.

The other five women were foolish. They only had the oil that was in their lamps.

The bridegroom did not come for a long time. The oil in the lamps ran out. The five wise women had more oil to put in their lamps. The five foolish women had to go buy more oil.

A. Listen to the story. B. Read the story aloud.

Gertrude Elion was born in New York City in 1918. She was a quiet girl. She loved to read. She was short and had red hair.

When she was 15, her grandfather got very sick. He was very tired and he had a stomachache. They took him to the hospital. He had cancer. The doctors couldn't help him. He died.

Gertrude said, "I want to help sick people." Her father said, "Be a dentist. You will make a lot of money." But Gertrude had a dream. "I want to find new medicines," she said.

In 1937, she got a degree in chemistry. But she couldn't get a job in a laboratory because she was a woman.

Then her fiancé got sick. He had a fever. He was weak and his feet were swollen. He had an infection in his heart. The doctors couldn't help him. He died. Gertrude was very sad.

"I still want to help sick people," she said. During the day, she worked as a secretary. At night she went to school. She got another degree.

Seven years later, she started to work in a laboratory. Gertrude and her boss, George Hitchings, studied medicines. They studied sick cells. She worked late and on weekends.

Gertrude and George discovered a special medicine. This medicine allows people to have organ transplants. Her medicine saves lives.

"I'm happy," she said. "It's a wonderful life." In 1988, she received the Nobel Peace Prize. Gertrude Elion never gave up on her dream. What is your dream?

C. Listen to questions 1–6. Say the answers aloud. Listen to the answers.

- Help your partner retell the story in Activity 4 using their own words. Say something for each picture. Ask questions about the story. What did Gertrude's dad hope for? What did Gertrude plan to do? Why did she care about medicine so much? What happened to her fiancé? What did she discover? What is your dream?

EXPANSION ACTIVITIES: GO FOR THE GOLD

1. Learn the vocabulary: run track, details, Paralympic Games, Olympics

2. Listen. 3. Read aloud.

"My name is Jason Smyth. I'm from Ireland. I just got married. I run track, the 100 and 200 meters. I started running when I was 15.

I have less than 10% vision. I can see a lot of colors around, but I can't see the details.

Beijing 2008 was my first Paralympic Games. I won both the 100- and 200-meter races with world records.

Four years later was the Paralympics in London. Thankfully, I did exactly what I did in Beijing—I won the 100 and 200 with world records again.

My goal for the next four years is to make it to the Olympics. I just missed out on doing that by 0.04 seconds. That was difficult.

Hopefully, I can improve a little bit each year. I will keep working hard every day.

We all experience challenges and trials in whatever we do. I've learned that what limits me from doing something is me.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, my wife, and my family have been great influences and supports for me.

I'm a sprinter. I'm a four-time Paralympic gold medalist. I'm a brand-new husband, and I'm a proud Irishman."

4. Learn the vocabulary: realize, capable, imagine, strengthen

5. Read aloud. Then listen.

"You are stronger than you realize. You are more capable than you can imagine. You can do it now!"

"I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me"
(Philippians 4:13).

6. Ponder: What are your dreams and goals for the future? What do you need to do to achieve your goals?

7. Write three of your goals for the future. _____

ACTIVITY 6: LOST ON THE ICE

A. Listen to the story. B. Read the story aloud.

When Ernest Shackleton was 40, he dreamed of reaching the South Pole. He sailed his boat to an island in Antarctica called South Georgia.

He and his crew started for the South Pole. But, in February, his boat got trapped in the ice. It was stuck. His men fished for seals, raced the dogs, and played soccer.

Then it got dark. It was dark from June until September. The men sang songs and read books. But in September the boat sank under the ice.

"We will walk to water," said Shackleton. They pulled small boats and walked. In December, the men were tired of walking. They camped in tents on the ice.

One night in April, the ice cracked. Their tents fell in the water. One of the men fell in too. Shackleton saved him from drowning.

After that, they found water. They sailed in the small boats. Then they came to a place called Elephant Island. No one lived there. They were far from home.

On April 24th, Shackleton told the men, "I will get help." He left with three men in a small boat. Three weeks later, they were back in South Georgia.

But the town was on the other side of a mountain. They hiked for 36 hours. They stopped to eat, but they didn't sleep. It was too cold.

After he reached the town, Shackleton got a new boat. He sailed back to Elephant Island to get his men. Everyone was still alive. They were happy to see him. He saved them when they were lost on the ice.

2. Listen. 3. Read aloud.

My name is Vinny. I'm from Brazil. This is Kyle. He was one of my companions on my mission. He was the person who helped me to learn English.

Learning English helped me to have a good education today. It helped me to have a good job.

It also helped me be able to listen to the prophets and understand what they are telling me. It has truly blessed my life.

I'm Marco. I'm from Ivory Coast. This is my wife, Elizabeth, and this is baby Lima.

I was blessed on my mission to serve with companions who helped me improve my English.

After I finished my mission, I was blessed to be one of the official translators for the Church in West Africa.

My name is Vanessa. This is my sister Fabiela and my father, Fabio. We live in Honduras. My father has a construction company.

He is leaving on a mission for the Church. My sister and I are going to take care of the business when he is gone. We wouldn't be able to do this without English.

English is helping me to develop new skills and new knowledge that I can apply here in my country. English has really blessed my life.
