

Summary of Efforts Caring for Those in Need

Basic Principles

- ◆ As disciples of Jesus Christ, members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints strive to follow the Savior's admonition to feed the hungry, give drink to the thirsty, take in the stranger, clothe the naked, and visit the sick and those in prison (see Matthew 25:35–36).
- ◆ The Church seeks to extend care to an ever-increasing number of God's children in need. This care comes in the form of welfare and self-reliance efforts, humanitarian aid, and volunteer service.
- ◆ Welfare and self-reliance efforts primarily benefit Church members and include fast-offering support, food orders, educational programs, employment services, emotional health support, and more.
- ◆ The greatest growth in the Church's work to care for those in need is taking place through humanitarian outreach. Through funding and commodities, the Church supports thousands of humanitarian projects. These projects benefit millions of God's children across the world, without regard to race, nationality, or religious affiliation.
- ◆ The compassionate service of Church members and friends is a vital component of welfare, self-reliance, and humanitarian efforts. Volunteer service also helps those in our own communities who may be in need. Members of the Church are willing to "bear one another's burdens; . . . mourn with those that mourn[,] . . . and comfort those that stand in need of comfort" (Mosiah 18:8–9). This is an essential part of helping us become more like Jesus Christ.
- ◆ Once a month, members of the Church go without food and drink for two consecutive meals and contribute a fast offering at least equal to the value of the two meals. Fast offerings are then used to care for those in need.
