

By President Henry B. Eyring
Second Counselor in the First Presidency

Peace from the Temple

Years ago, my wife and I drove to visit the Idaho Falls Idaho Temple. Our four young sons stayed home with a babysitter.

As we got ready to go home, one of the temple workers told us that the Teton Dam in eastern Idaho had collapsed! Much of our city was underwater.

My wife and I knelt and prayed to Heavenly Father for the safety of our children and the thousands of people affected by the flood. These words came clearly to my heart and mind: “Whatever the outcome, all will be well because of the temple.” We were grateful later to learn that our boys were safe.

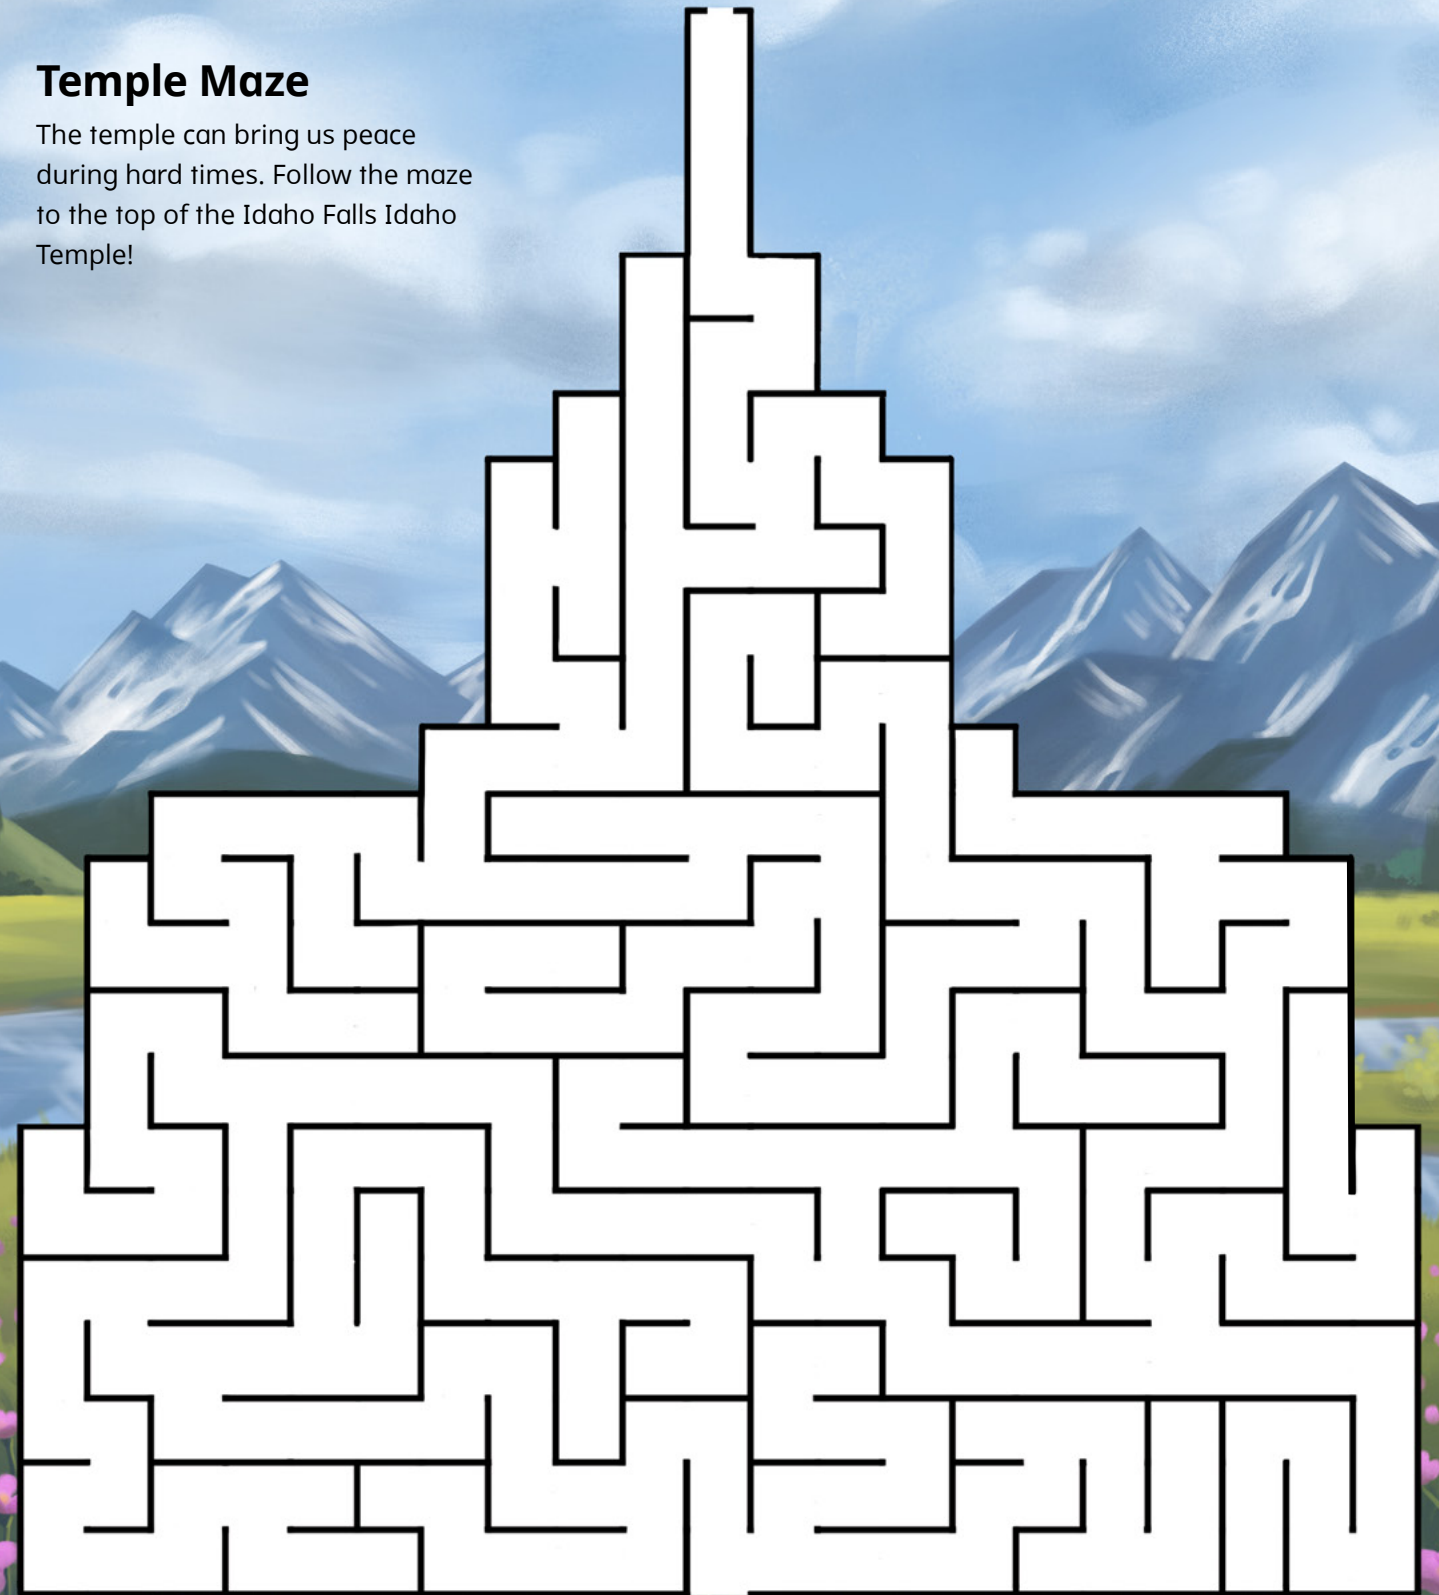

There is nothing more important than honoring the covenants you will one day make in the temple. No matter what, all will be well because of temple covenants. ●

Adapted from “All Will Be Well Because of Temple Covenants,” Liahona, May 2024, 24–27.

Temple Maze

The temple can bring us peace during hard times. Follow the maze to the top of the Idaho Falls Idaho Temple!

FINISH

START

ILLUSTRATIONS BY ALYSSA TALLENT